Version: 2.6-draft-2026-10-20 | Updated: 2026-10-20

Planned effective date: [EFFECTIVE DATE TO BE APPROVED]

DRAFT: Draft for approval. Effective date: [EFFECTIVE DATE TO BE APPROVED]. This version incorporates facts available on 20 October 2026 but requires completion of the identified checks and company approval. It does not amend earlier contracts or activate sales or renewals. Final publication will carry its actual effective date and a separate version identifier.

1. Licensor and scope

The licensor is LIBERUP SPÓŁKA Z OGRANICZONĄ ODPOWIEDZIALNOŚCIĄ, identified in the Terms. The licence is non-exclusive, time-limited and granted to the purchaser for the paid Product. Copyright is not transferred. The current offer excludes perpetual licences. Properly saved outputs remain usable after subscription expiry.

An accounting firm may process documents for any number of its clients if authorised to process them. The restriction concerns devices, not the number of clients. Software may be installed at any location; the licence must not be supplied to unrelated parties as a shared access service.

2. Three devices and remote access

One licence covers up to 3 simultaneously active devices. An office computer and a laptop are separate devices. Remote desktop access to one's own activated computer is permitted; this does not authorise providing software to other businesses. Additional licences expand entitlement only as recorded in the order.

Devices can be removed in the Account. Self-service resets are limited to 3 in a rolling 30-day period. Further justified resets may be requested from support. This limit does not impose an extra fee or remove complaint rights.

Each unit of a new purchase is a separate licence with its own 3 device slots. Two licences do not create one key for 6 devices. Renewal of a selected licence preserves its key and limit. Active devices means currently registered slots; the exception is the remaining validity of a previously issued offline grant on a device removed from the Account. Removal does not renew that validity.

Technical identification uses a device key in the Windows user profile; another profile or system restoration may create a new registration. This does not change the computer-limit rule. If the same computer is counted again, remove the former registration or request a free support correction. Remote access concerns a computer under the customer's authorised control, including company-owned or leased equipment; it does not authorise offering the software to third parties as one's own service.

3. Activation and 72 hours offline

Activation, entitlement checks and downloads require Internet access. After successful validation the app may operate offline for up to 72 calendar hours, never beyond the validity of its existing grant and paid access. The device must periodically connect to LiberUp.

Removing a device revokes server entitlement and frees its slot immediately. An online device receives revocation when communicating; an offline device may continue until its previously issued grant expires, within the stated 72-hour maximum. Removal does not grant another 72 hours. This period differs from the 24-hour failed-payment grace period.

The offline window starts at the last successful validation, not when the application closes or the network disconnects. Restarting does not grant another 72 hours. After expiry, new analyses, repairs and reports require renewed access; legal documents and previously saved outputs remain available independently of the licence. Do not change the system clock to bypass verification.

4. Local data and KSeF

JPK_VAT processes files and outputs locally; it does not submit declarations or invoices to KSeF or download invoices. Checking or displaying a KSeF-related XML field is not verification against the Ministry of Finance system. Other announced applications, including KSeF summaries, are not included in a JPK_VAT purchase. The LiberUp service separately processes Account, licence and technical activation or update data under the Privacy policy.

Users provide appropriate authorisations and secure their computers and data. Support receives only synthetic or effectively anonymised samples. Never send tokens, keys, private certificates or real invoices. Support does not connect through remote desktop.

5. Installers and updates

During an active licence the Library provides available releases, normally the 3 latest safe versions. A critically defective release may be withdrawn immediately. Choosing an older available installer does not restore withdrawn features or extend the licence term.

Schema and implementation changes are delivered through new releases. LiberUp informs users about updates needed for conformity and consequences of not installing them. An old version alone is not grounds to reject a complaint. Article 43k(4) of the Consumer Rights Act concerns only non-conformity resulting from failure to install an update, subject to all statutory conditions.

The Product page specifies supported systems, formats and limitations. Functions outside the purchased scope are not guaranteed. This does not reduce the obligation to maintain conformity for the applicable period. Support retirement and settlement of paid access follow the Terms.

6. Permitted use and termination

Installation, running and use of functions within the licence, and acts permitted by mandatory law, are allowed. Bypassing protection, removing rights notices, selling shared access and unauthorised redistribution are prohibited. Restrictions do not override statutory rights concerning backup copies, observation of operation and interoperability.

Expiry blocks further operations until renewal. Saved outputs remain on the computer and the user is responsible for backups. Complaints and withdrawal follow their policy; liability, including the sole ordinary-B2B cap, is governed by the Terms. This EULA adds no separate cap or exclusion.
